

HOUSE SPECIAL INVESTIGATORY COMMITTEE

The House Special Investigatory Committee will meet at 10:00 a.m. on October 27 in Room 307 of the State Capitol. The committee is charged with investigating and recommending to the New Mexico House of Representatives whether the house should consider the impeachment of the secretary of state for crimes, misdemeanors or malfeasance in office.

The committee will receive a briefing from Special Counsel Robert Gorence, which will include a discussion of the rules and procedures for the committee's investigation, and it may consider other matters within its authority.
